

I'm Finally Home in Heaven by Roger Ricketts

I'm finally home in heaven
No sickness bothers me
I'm safely in my Father's arms and Jesus' face I see

He hugged me and He said my name
Then walked me thru the gate
The things I didn't understand are answered in this place

I'm finally home in heaven
I made it here at last
I'm laughing with the saints of God and having me a blast

It's more than I imagined
I'm new and feeling right
The faith that saved has paved the way
And now I walk by sight

I know you miss my voice and touch
My presence in the room
But I am here in Glory Land waiting to see you

Your sense of humor and God's love
Will keep you company
And sing about Amazing Grace when you think of me

No more tears of sorrow
No more doubt or fear
I'm doing fine on Jesus time waiting for you here
